Mr. Edward Fritz, 4301 Jacob street, Wheeling.

"My nostrils would clog up, first one and hen the other. Sometimes my nose would be a hadly stopped up that I could not breath down to the table but a few mouthfuls would by me.

I lost steadily in welght and attength. It is med as if the onsease had undermined my ole constitution, some time ago I read in papers of the cures that were being made by Capeland & Bell. I went to see them my, found their charges very reasonable and ced myself under their care."

"Well, you can see for yourself. I feel well not strong now. My head and throat became lelear and well. I gained ste dily in weight and sm an entirely different man now from what I ws. I am very parteil to the doctors and juite willing to make this statement." Mr. Fritz address is given above and the in-erview can easily be verified.

He is honest and straightforward in his manner of dealing out the patronage at his disposal, and has the courage of his convictions that the Republicans deserve the fruits of their victory.

We are all patriots here. This is my country-not Virginia, not New York, not Texas, my own old State, but the whole broad land. Let us carry only the National colors."

A POINTER for people who have a mania for sympathizing with condemned murderers may be found in the actions of Kemmler, the New York man, whose sentence was recently interrupted by a writ of habeas corpus. So long as he imagined that he was to die soon, he was very devoted to religious duties. His time was spent in reading the Bible, praying, and singing hymns. Now that his death has been postponed, "Little Annie Rooney" and "Where Did You Get That Hat" have taken the place of the hymns, and he has grown very care less in his conversation. He seems to think he is not going to die and that there is no necessity for repentance.

Our Democratic friends have not ceased their clatter about the actions of the Republicans in Congress. What seems to worry them most is that the disagreements on the Republican side are insig niticant and that they are thoroughly united in their fidelity to the Chicago platform. This argues well for the party and the Democrats know it. In this connection we commend to our readers the following from the Pitts-

our readers the following from the Pitts-burgh Times:

The sideity of the Republicans in Congress to the Chicago platform is admirable. To the pres-ent moment all predictions of disagreement have failed, and there is no prospect of disagreement at any time. It will be on the measures that will be passed before Congress adjourns that the next Presidential battle will be fought. One of those mensures should and we are disposed to believe will be reproducy, on the general plan brought forward by Mr. lainte—a scheme that will act, and the measures they have on hand to atlimu-late trade and revive commerce. Let them, far addition, give the country reciprocity with the countries of this continent, and a grand Ameri-cian policy will be the consequence, for which the country will reward the Republicans with their independent at the least election. Good state-man ship and good politics go hand in hand,

Col. John E. Schley.

The funeral of Col. John E. Schley of Jefferson county, this State, occurred yesterday, and the remains were followed to the grave by a large concourse of friends. Such is the simple announce ment conveyed to us by the telegraph, his death having been previously put-

Many people throughout West Virginia will mourn Colonel Schley's death, and in political circles he will be sadly missed. For many years he was prominent in Republican councils and was a man of considerable influence and great popularity. Three times he was a representative at National Republican conventions as a delegate-at-large, and was one of the original Republicans at the formation of the State—one of the fathers of Republicanism in West Virginia. Of late years Colonel Schley has not participated actively in politics owing to his advanced age, but his services to the party in the past were such that they have not been forgotten. He was a personal friend of General Grant, who eld him in high esteem.

Jefferson county had few citizens who minanded greater respect and the Republican party had no member more ried and true. Cause for Comfort.

It will now be in order for Democratic It will now be in order for Democratic newspapers to turn their batteries of abuse on General A. J. Warner, of the Marietta Congressional district. General Warner is a Democrat but rises above his party, and frankly endorses the McConas antigerrymander bill before Configress. He says there is a necessity for it, that it ought to pass and that Congress has clearly the right to adopt such a measure. He believes that "something must be done to stop this everlasting gerrymandering for partisan ends solely." This he says in an interview Edwards, general agents of the Equitations. solely." A Boston Man's Mistake, The latest story of Southern outrage is no less shocking than many that have preceded it. G. F. Rich, of Boston, lectured to an audience composed wholly of negroes at Mount Pizgah Colored Presbyterian Church, at Lantens, and gave them a talk on temperance and morality. Among other things he told them they should refuse to work on Sunday. The telegraphic reports state that the whites "upon receiving this information, or-ganized a party to take the drummer in charge. Tuesdey night, after the adprising those who predicted that he dress at the church, Mr. Rich was would find himself unable to sustain stopped on the streets while he was rehimself without Bismarck. The Boston man made two "min takes," first in advising the negroes to be temperate and moral; second, in placing himself on an equality with them by calling them Mr. and Mrs." These things appear to be heinous in the eyes of the chivalric citizens of Laurens, and the man who dares to commit them must take the consequences. South Carolina should avenge the outrage. Nobody will dispute its rights as a "sovereign State" to institute such proceedings as will demonstrate that her system of "local government" is efficient enough to protect the rights guaranteed to every citizen by the constitution of the United

In contrast to the ideas that prevai in many portions of the South regarding the negro's right to elevate himself to high position if he can, are those which prevail throughout the North. The dispatches this morning relate that a colored man won the prize for declamation in the annual competition at Harvard in advocating the tariff bill, sized up the College. To do so he entered the contest with white students. It is even probable that his fellow students addressed him as "Mr." when they congratulated him on his success. The chivalric citizens of Laurens, South Carolina, would doubtless be greatly shocked to bear the distinguished men bers of the Harvard faculty address the have not heard of Harvard College being mobbed by White Caps for permitting such shocking social improprieties.

"Tired All the Time," Say many poor men and women, who seem overworked, or are debilitated by the change of season, climate or life. If you could read the hundreds of letters praising Hood's Sarsaparilla which come from people whom it has restored to health, you would be convinced of its merius. As this is impossible, why not try Heod's Sarsaparilla yourself and thus realize its benefit? It will tone and build up your system, give you a good appetite, overcome that tired feeling and make you feel, as one woman expressed it, "like a new creature."
